

CHAPTER 3

YEARNING CREATURE

SURRENDERING TO THE EROTIC

“There is inside of me – a life so alive. It yearns and it yearns to be multiplied by some steadfast infinity. I believe this is why I dream of marrying a mountain. On certain days this life inside of me feels like the kind of loneliness an abyss carries by simply existing in its own endlessness. On other days the loneliness is a longing, soaring towards Heaven’s own eternity. I think only a slap of ancient rock can hold me in the required devotional gravity as life dilates me and dilates from within me – these crashing waves across new shores.”

Marrying a Mountain

!grab your journal: reflection

- Call It By Its Name:

There is a life inside of you, a distinct aliveness with its own quality, its own mystery, its own pulse. If you had to describe it not as emotion but as weather, or as a landscape, or as a (yearning) creature, what would it be?

Where does it live in your body, and when did you last feel it move?

- Multiplied By Infinity:

What does your inner life yearn to be multiplied by?

Not who but what quality, what force, what scale of existence?

What would it mean for your aliveness to meet something so vast it could finally expand without limit?

- Inhabit Your Mystery:

What new shore is your life currently crashing toward?

Where are you meeting the edge of something you haven't inhabited before?

Write about what it feels like to be in motion toward it.

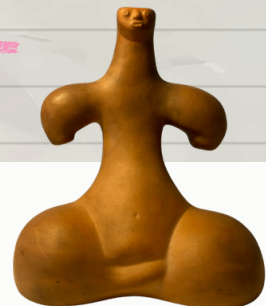

RITUAL

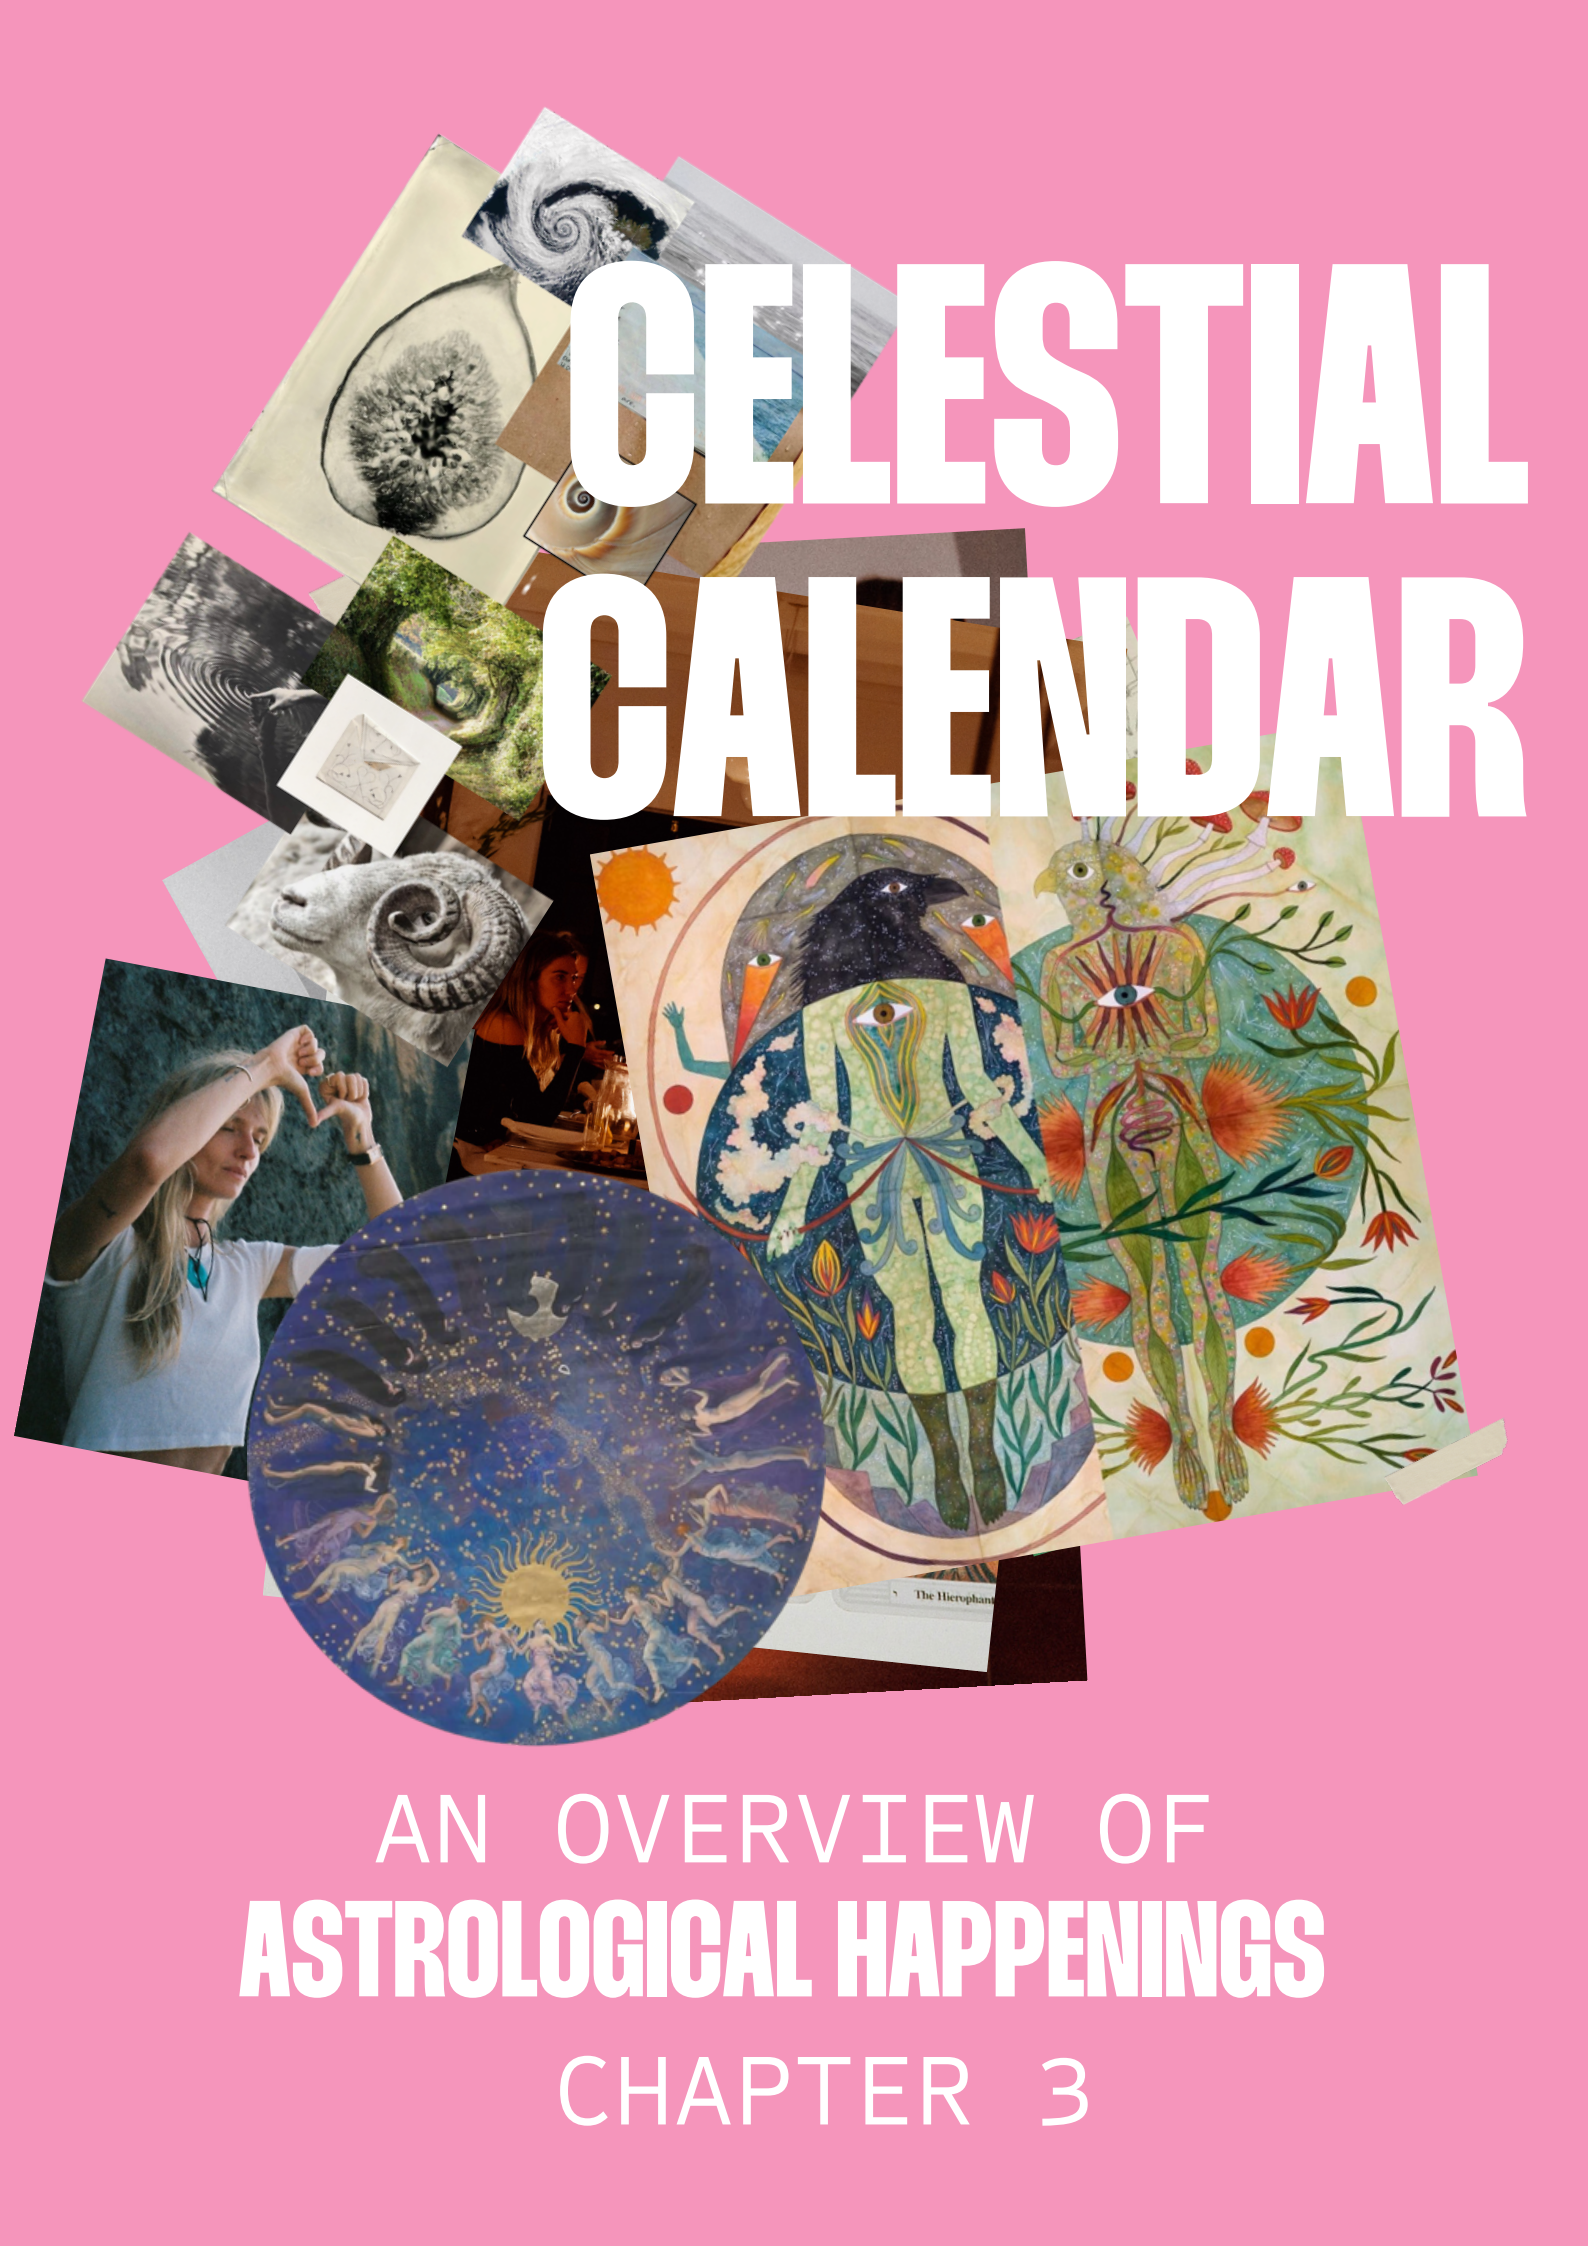

☐

Give voice to your yearning. Sing, humm, scream or recite your favorite poetry. Be loud, be weird, make noises and groans you haven't let yourself utter.

☐

Take up space. Tell us how it felt.

CHAPTER 3

JUNE 1ST - 9TH

Our third chapter draws us into emotional depth and feminine softness. The planets activated in this chapter are in the sign of Cancer, the crab residing inside its shell, the home within the self. The energies we are working with in this chapter move us on a deeper level. We are working with our inner tides this week, letting the water move you, letting your intuition heighten, letting the soft and nurturing energy of Cancer hold you.

JUNE 1

MERCURY ENTERS CANCER

As Mercury sinks into the deep and intuitive waters of Cancer, we draw our mind, thoughts, and communication inward. Cancer is a water sign, water holds memory. Mercury in this sign is picking up information from memories, dreams, and intuitive downloads. Mercury in Cancer is about expressing our emotions, letting what ebbs and flows within us be voiced. This energy is clairsentient, an intuitive knowing, a way to put words to what we sense and feel. This transit calls us to explore the deeper layers of our mind and the thought patterns that shape our emotional experience. Let Mercury in Cancer draw out your emotions, put words to them, express them, let them move.

Days after Mercury moves into Cancer, it squares Neptune in Aries. When two planets form a square, being 90 degrees apart, there is friction, a pull in two different directions. In the case of Mercury and Neptune, there is tension between the conscious and unconscious mind. These layers of consciousness lack alignment, and what we may experience instead is confusion between Mercury in emotional Cancer and Neptune in fiery Aries. There is a deeper knowing and intuition from Mercury in Cancer, while Neptune in Aries may draw us elsewhere. Hold both perspectives, trust the friction, and see what emerges.

JUNE 9

VENUS CONJUNCTS JUPITER

This is one of the most beautiful transits of our time together. Venus, the planet of love, beauty, and money, aligns with Jupiter, the planet of expansion and prosperity. Venus draws us to richness and fullness through our values, while Jupiter brings abundance, expansion, and luck. Tap into the magnetism of this union as these two planets align in Cancer, and feel the richness of life, ripe, sweet, and yours for the picking.
